"WAR CABINET" MEASURES INTRODUCED INTO SENATE TODAY; MONDAY HOLIDAY MAY BE SUSPENDED WITHIN THIRTY DAYS

BOLSHEVIKI END CONSTITUENT ASSEMBLY BY BREAK

Russia Declared Republic In Closing Session of a
Stormy Convention

BY JOSEPH SHAPLEN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
PETROGRAD, Jan. 21.—The crisis between the bolsheviks and the conservative liberals was at hand today. Dissolution of the constituent assembly, effected by the Trotsky-Lenine government, has brought to a climax the violent opposition of the social revolutionary party. The bolshevik leaders today freely predicted that their enemies are now preparing a campaign of terror. They named former Minister Savinkoff with 150 men as leading this counter-revolutionary movement.

Bloodshed was narrowly averted in the closing of the constituent assembly. The fast few minutes of the meeting were dramatic in their intensity. Armed sailors poured into the hall and were arrayed in groups. The aisles. Their commanders demanded that Chernoff, then presiding, quit the platform and that the members of the Right parties, leave the hall. Chernoff flatly refused. A heated argument ensued. Witnesses today insisted it was only intervention of the bolshevik delegates themselves that saved their political opponents from violence at the hands of bolshevik troops.

Proclaim Republic
The final act of the assembly was the formal proclamation of Russia as a democratic republic. The speech of former Minister Tseretelli was dramatic. He was constantly interrupted, and often with violent abuse. His concluding peroration was a pathetic appeal to all that the revolution be permitted to bear fruit in the formation of a government which would show a solid front of all classes of the revolutionary democracy.

The bolsheviks and social revolutionaries of the Left, together with others who favor a Pan-Russian congress to take the place of the constituent assembly, were working hard today to achieve this sort of a law-giving body. The Soviets completely control the situation and will undoubtedly carry through their program complete.

A Typical Movement
"What happened to the constituent assembly now going on everywhere," said the bolshevik minister of agriculture, H. Kalesyeff in an interview of the United Press today. "The Right parties cannot remain alone and exercise power in the constituent assembly for the people do not recognize them. The people are behind the Soviets. Should the parties of the Right challenge the authority and power of the Soviets—it simply means an extension of the civil war now raging."

It was reported today that the people's commissaries desire to take the Brest Litovsk negotiations out of the hands of the present delegation, although they asserted their adherence to the conditions of the armistice.

On Sunday night former Cadet Ministers Koshkin and Shigareff, who were recently transferred to a hospital from the fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul, were killed by a band of soldiers and workmen. Their assassination, together with the animosities aroused by forcibly closing down of the constituent assembly, has brought about the most intensely bitter feeling between the Right and Left parties.

Forbid Assembly
A delegation of the constituent assembly leaders who called on Nicholas Lenin today to protest against the bolshevik action were told by the bolshevik leader that permission would be withheld for them to assemble anywhere and that instead of their conference, a national convention will be formed by the forthcoming soviet congress.

All the newspapers containing detailed accounts of the constituent assembly meetings were confiscated. The soviet of the workmen and soldiers today formally approved the dissolution of the assembly after a speech by Novikov, declaring the conference brought together two elements which could not be congenial.

In the opinion of many leaders the dissolution means war to a finish between the two elements. The members of the Right who dominated the constituent assembly are planning to go to Kieff or Novocherkassk.

SEPARATE PEACE WITH TEUTONS DECLARED BY UKRAINIA

First Break of Russians Made Public In Dispatches From
Brest Litovsk

AMSTERDAM, Jan. 21.—Ukraine has practically concluded a separate peace with Germany.

Word from Brest Litovsk, received via Berlin today, gave this first news of a breach among the Russians. The agreement between Germany and the infant Ukrainian republic was concluded Sunday. Previous word had stated that all Russian delegates had departed from Brest Litovsk and this had been supposed to include the Ukrainians.

Today's dispatches declared that the basis of the separate peace treaty had been agreed upon and that all that was necessary now was for "each side to consult responsible authorities at home."

Ukraine's independence has been recognized by Petrograd, but it had heretofore been thought and apparently understood by the bolshevik delegates that the Ukrainian delegates at Brest Litovsk would act in concert with other Russian representatives.

Cables last week carried a hint of the displeasure of bolshevik delegates over the separate peace conferences which the Ukrainians were holding with the Germans.

Ukraine occupies parts of Poland, Lithuania and Courland.

WILL OPEN BRANCH
INTERNAL REVENUE
OFFICES IN STATE

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 21.—Twenty branch internal revenue offices will be opened immediately in San Francisco and 50 in other parts of the state to handle income tax returns, Internal Revenue Collector Justus Wardell announced today following his return from Washington. At the capital Wardell conferred with officials to clear up doubts as to interpretations of the income tax law and regarding the filing of returns.

that Tseretelli and Chernoff, leaders of the social revolutionaries in the anti-bolshevik movement, had been killed, was declared false by the authorities. The central executive committee of the bolsheviks, however, named a commission to investigate other shootings in the city. The Red Guards, who participated in last week's attack on groups in the city, blames the paraders for the rioting.

A city-wide hunt was in progress for M. Savinkoff, one of Kerensky's staunch supporters, who has been reported in hiding.

In the opinion of politicians here, there is little chance of the constituent assembly leaders overcoming the bolsheviks. A few of the Red Guards, however, formally tendered their resignations, declaring they were being used to suppress liberty in the attacks in the constituent assembly. Lenin himself introduced the dissolution decree in the assembly and in a ninety-minute speech lauded the soviet deputies as representing the highest power of democracy in the world. He said he considered the most resolute action which the decree proposed as the only means remaining—the Russian people otherwise were doomed.

Lenin frankly declared that he recognized the "impossibility of accomplishing a socialistic state except by civil war."

"But this does not deter us," he concluded.

BOLSHEVIKI GIVE REASONS FOR BOLT
PETROGRAD, Jan. 21.—The declaration of the bolshevik agents to the constituent assembly adopted by them prior to their bolt to this body, was published in full today. In part, it asserted:

"The debates have shown that the social revolutionaries of the Right, as in Kerensky's time, are nourishing the people on promises and phrases, but in reality are opposing socialist measures such as expropriation of lands, the nationalization of banks and the control and annulment of state debts. Not wishing to condone these crimes of the enemies of the people, we declare we are quitting the assembly."

MEN MARRIED SINCE MAY 18 SHOULD NOT BE EXEMPT, RULING

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Men of draft age married since May 18, 1917, should not be exempted from selective service, Provost Marshall Crowder announced today.

He instructed government agents to appeal to district boards all classes in which local boards have granted dependency exemption to men married after May 18.

At the same time, Crowder ruled that no draft registrants will be permitted to enlist in the armies of the allies, pending call to this country's flag.

JANITOR TEACHES SCHOOL
PEEL, Wash., Jan. 21.—Joe Shepherd, erstwhile janitor of the local school, qualifies as a real pinch hitter. When the regular manual training instructor was called to war, Joe dropped his broom and began teaching. He's getting away with it, too.

STRIKES POINT TO PEACE AIM IN AUSTRIA

ZURICH, Jan. 21.—All Austria-Hungary is crying out for peace.

Reports today show general strikes, declared Friday, spreading throughout the nation. Leaders of the movement are preventing violence everywhere. They have issued a manifesto demanding assurances that the peace negotiations be not frustrated through "territorial demands of the pan-Germans."

Dispatches today indicated that at Budapest the entire railway, tramway and underground services had stopped. Thirty-one separate strikers' meetings were held.

At Cracow, great demonstrations were reported. The shops have been ordered closed and the public forbidden to congregate on the streets after 6 o'clock at night.

At Vienna the strike movement was reported spreading throughout upper and lower Austria into Bohemia and Moldavia.

Emperor Karl, according to one report here, summoned the mayor of Graz to Vienna, but the mayor telephoned to the palace that the situation in Graz was "too serious for him to leave."

TURKEY IN DESPERATE PLIGHT TAKES CHANCE

LONDON, Jan. 21.—Turkey's situation in the war has become so serious that she took the desperate chance of sending out the old Goeben and the Breslau to fight British patrol vessels on the faint hope of returning after sinking a couple of good-sized ships and thus bucking up a declining Turkish morale.

This was the interpretation placed today on the Dardanelles engagement. The Goeben, re-named the Midullu, was sunk by the alert British patrol boats and the Breslau, re-named the Yavuz Selim, was beached. Two small monitors were all the losses incurred by the British.

CRANE WIFE-SLAYER CAPTURED IN PARK

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 21.—Mr. Fletcher, who killed his wife in Golden Gate Park, after her remains and fled, was captured when he returned to the scene of his crime today.

He went to Slattery's Pool for fish but caught a bed spring just as a park policeman came by, leading to his undoing.

Mr. Fletcher is a blue crane.

A DIVISION OF ADVERTISING CREATED BY PRESIDENT WILSON

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Definite machinery which may be called into assignment of the part national advertising forces are to take in the task of winning the war, was given in an order issued by President Wilson creating the division of advertising of the committee on public information. It is believed that through this agency the patriotic services volunteered by advertising men throughout the United States since the outbreak of the war may be rendered even more effective.

Through the division of advertising it is proposed to perfect publicity

LAST APPEAL OF WILSON GIVES IMPULSE TO DEMOCRACY

Kaiser Making Attempt to Smooth Out the Tangle In Central Power Countries

BY JOHN H. HEARLEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
ROME, Jan. 21.—Greatly stirred by President Wilson's democratic outline of war aims, Austria-Hungary is smouldering with a blaze of opposition to militarist Germany, according to reports to the Vatican, received from the Papal Nuncio at Vienna. It was understood he described the situation in the dual monarchy as "most critical for the Teutonic military combine."

President Wilson's speech to Congress, it was asserted, has given a remarkable impulse to democratic peace ideas in the whole nation. Industrial chaos of more than a mere local nature is reported. Grievous differences have developed between Emperor Karl and the pan-German leaders.

Attempt to Smooth Tangles
The Kaiser, it was declared, is trying to smooth out these disagreements by supporting Foreign Minister von Kuehlmann against von Bulow, who is hated in Austria.

The Corriere D'Italia, the Vatican organ, declared positively today: "We are facing a true Austrian pronouncement against Ludendorff, Hoffmann and German imperialism."

Evidence of Austria-Hungary's bitter opposition to the junker annexationist plans is accumulating in scores of reports seeping across the Austrian-Swiss border and being received here. The Austrian newspapers do not hesitate violently to attack General Hoffmann or Prince von Bulow himself for imperialistic plans and for their acquiescence in the schemes of the German junkers.

Strikes are spreading throughout the dual monarchy—due not only to demand for food, but to the people's opposition to continuance of the war purely to satisfy militarist and junker cliques.

HOUSEWIVES SHOULD CUT USE OF WHEAT FLOUR TO MINIMUM

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 21.—Use of wheat flour should be cut to a minimum by housewives and hotels and restaurants should stop serving white bread except on special demand, to pave the way for more stringent wheat conservation rules now being prepared in Washington.

That was the word brought to California today by State Food Administrator Ralph P. Merritt after three weeks in Washington conferring with Food Administrator Hoover.

Because the allies already have taken the reserve of the 1917 crop and will need one-third of the American production of flour between now and next fall, the food administration, Merritt declared, is soon to announce sweeping flour conservation measures.

U. S. ASKS ACTION ON DRAFT LAW EVADERS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Immediate execution of all sentences against those the supreme court found guilty of violating the draft law, except Emma Goldman and Alexander Berkman, was asked by the government today.

ELEMENTS FIGHT GOVERNMENT IN 1ST HEATLESS HOLIDAY

Effort to Move Freight to Seaports Hampered By Severe Snows, Cold

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Before thirty days application of the Garfield Monday holiday order may be discontinued, Director General McAdoo declared today before the interstate commerce committee.

Summed before the committee to explain further the proposed operation of the railroads under federal control, McAdoo declared the "holiday" probably will not be necessary beyond the middle of February.

At the same time, he startled members of the committee with the declaration that between $1,000,000,000 and $1,500,000,000 must be put into the railroads by the federal treasury to make them effective in the transportation crisis.

BY ROBERT J. BENDER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—America's first "heatless holiday" found the National railroad fighting zero weather, snows and freight jams to reach the seaboard with coal.

Business, except food and drug stores, shivered behind closed doors and great industries continued idle through their fourth day of suspension, to facilitate coal shipments. By special request of Fuel Administrator Garfield last night, department stores and retail establishments throughout the east today not only are not burning coal, but they are closed. Elevators in office buildings are supposed to run only for those exempted.

But, despite the general close down of business, the government is having a violent fight to keep coal moving. At both northern and southern ports loading of vessels is continuing on a twenty-four hour schedule.

Need Further Action
It is now believed certain that drastic measures to continue coal movements after the present five day suspension order ends tomorrow night, will have to be invoked. Officials state that priority orders now in effect will be continued after tomorrow unless there is a marked rise in temperature throughout the east, making transportation easier. This would mean that after tomorrow night only such industries as have coal on hand could operate, aside from the vital war works now exempted from Garfield's regulations.

Pressure is being brought to bear on Director General McAdoo to declare an embargo on shipment of all non-essential freight until the tracks and seaboard are cleared. It is stated that with railroads jammed by delayed shipment, traffic to ports and consumers and movement of "tempies" back to the mines will continue despite the close down of business and trade.

Expect Results Soon

Garfield said today he expected the next forty-eight hours to show the results of his recent order. Both Garfield and McAdoo are hoping for warmer weather throughout the east and south.

The best showing thus far has been made at southern Atlantic ports where 107,700 tons of bunker coal has been delivered and is ready for loading, with 200,000 more tons en route. At one port more than 35,000 tons were delivered over Sunday.

Northern Atlantic ports are expecting 150,000 tons during the next few days and a 24-hour loading schedule will be continued during the period of industrial suspension in the east.

Deep snows, zero temperatures and promise of only slightly warmer weather came in reports to the fuel and railroad administrations as a discouraging factor in movement of trains during the next 48 hours.

Up to Weather and Railroads
"Industrial America has done her part—it's now up to the weather and the National railroad," it was stated at the fuel administration. All energies are centralized on the tremendous transportation problem. To learn what are the exact results of the Garfield order, the senate interstate commerce committee today summoned Director General McAdoo to reappear on the stand. Committee members promise a complete airing of the present transportation crisis which McAdoo Saturday admitted.

T. R. DENOUNCED BY SENATOR STONE AS AGENT OF KAISERISM

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Senator Stone of Missouri denounced Roosevelt this afternoon on the floor of the Senate as the "most potent agent of the kaiser and the most seditious man of consequence in America."

Stone said: "He is making politics out of war." He demanded the same treatment of Roosevelt as of others arrested for sedition.

CALIFORNIA MEDICAL PRACTICE ACT UPHOLD BY U. S. HIGH COURT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The supreme court today upheld the constitutionality of the California Medical Practice act, sustaining the supreme court of that state.

WATER FRONT AT S. F., OAKLAND UNDER GUARD

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 21.—Additional precautions to guard the San Francisco and Oakland water fronts were taken today following the breaking out of a sudden mysterious fire on the steam schooner Wahkeena, whose superstructure burned to the water's edge as she lay in her slip this morning.

The fire was regarded as significant, coming as it did immediately on the heels of information received in federal circles of a widespread plot by enemy agents to wage a campaign of terror on Pacific coast waterfronts. Nearly 200 bluejackets from the San Pedro naval training station arrived at Goat Island today to assist in the work of patrolling the front. Six men and a petty officer were placed during the night on every large vessel in the harbor.

The strictest measures to keep plotters off the vessels have been put into effect. Nobody will be permitted to board any ship unless he bears a pass or is able to establish his identity beyond question. Customs officers and naval men are co-operating in this work. All wharves are under close guard.

Surmise I. W. W. Plot
According to reports which cannot be officially confirmed, federal officials have conclusive evidence that I. W. W. agents are in a gigantic plot to burn ships and docks at many points on the Pacific coast. The exact time when the plot was to culminate has not been stated but it is supposed to have been the latter part of January.

In addition to the activity of naval and customs men, the big shipbuilding companies on San Francisco bay have also taken extraordinary precautions. Double guards have been placed at all of these and police and fire reserves in Oakland and San Francisco are in constant readiness to meet any emergency that may arise.

HOOVER SETS MINIMUM HOG PRICE ON COAST

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 21.—Sanctioned by a voluntary agreement among more than thirty packers, representing California, Oregon and Washington, the United States food administration today announced a minimum price for hogs on the Pacific Coast, fixed at 1 cent under the food administration's minimum of $15.50, now effective on the Chicago market.

The price of pork from retailer to consumer will not be raised as a result, the administration said, but the increase in price to the producer is expected to result in a tremendous increase in pork production.

Under the new system the minimum will fluctuate with the Chicago market, remaining at all times 1 cent under the eastern price. Price may go above the minimum under the new system, but never below it.

NEW YORK SHORE LINE UNDER HEAVY GUARD

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—New York's miles of shore line were under a reinforced guard today, following rumors that plans were being made by Germans and an anti-British element to begin a reign of terror by fire tomorrow night. Ship plants, docks, piers and warehouses were watched carefully. So many ships have been held through lack of fuel that an attack on them would cause enormous destruction.

FIGHT CERTAIN AS PRESIDENT DECLARES HIS OPPOSITION

Roosevelt Going to Capital to Aid In Bitter Scrap Against Central Unit

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—In the face of President Wilson's avowed opposition, Senator Chamberlain today introduced a bill in the Senate to create a "war cabinet." Chamberlain's action followed conferences between the President and Senators Martin and Simmons, Democratic leaders, at which the President expressed his opposition to the measure.

The announcement that President Wilson is opposed to the "war cabinet" plan promises a bitter struggle in Congress. Senator Stone has announced that he will make an explosive speech in the Senate on "War and Politics," and Roosevelt's coming to the capital promises a fiery period.

With President Wilson and Secretary Baker opposed to the "war cabinet" plan, to say nothing of the centralized munitions purchase plan, there appears a doubt of Congress putting it through. A big political row is predicted, Republicans opening up with a violent criticism of the administration, and the Democrats replying with the charge that the Republicans are working up campaign fuel for the next elections.

CREDENTIALS GRANTED TEACHERS OF STATE

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 19.—High school credentials were granted to the following teachers by the state board at its recent meeting here:

Los Angeles—Alma M. Anderson, Dr. Silas Evans, Robert C. McLean, Alma P. Nichols, Beulah Hubbard, Mrs. Mabel W. Spooner, Fred L. Allen, Amy L. Phelps and Jay A. Woodruff.

Long Beach—Frieda M. Bull, Mabel E. Robinson.

Berkeley—Flora F. Hatch, Alvin Robertson and Margaret Wisner.

Fresno—Maud O. Cesens and Fremont F. Vale.

Others were Helen Hill, Claremont; Mrs. Cassina M. Watson, Tulare; Payson W. Peterson, Pomona; Pearl Buell, El Centro; Mrs. Gertrude F. Nicholson, San Francisco; Mildred J. Anderson, Oakland; Florence T. Baker, Delano.

5,000 GRADUATES OF U. OF P. WITH COLORS

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 21.—Five thousand graduates of the University of Pennsylvania have enlisted in the war and are either on the battlefields of Europe or in training camps in this city.

Eighteen Penn. men already have given their lives for the cause of world democracy, according to a compilation made under the auspices of Provost Edgar Fahs Smith.

Approximately forty nationalities are represented in the roster of the University of Pennsylvania in normal times. It is not strange, then, that the Red and Blue have several hundred graduates who now are officers in the German army, arrayed against the United States.

"I have only sympathy for them," said Provost Smith in announcing this fact.

ALLY TROOPS HARASS FORCES OF GERMANY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Allied troops on the western front are harassing German forces concentrating for the expected grand assault. "Still expectant," the allies are taking the initiative, pending the opening of hostilities on a large scale, Secretary Baker announced today. Meanwhile menaced positions have been greatly improved during the last week, he says.

CALIFORNIANS PUT IN POSITIONS BY WILSON

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The President today nominated:

To be receivers of public moneys—Joseph Allen of California, at Visalia, Cal.; Ashley G. Dawley of Nevada, at Elko, Nev.

To be registrars of land offices—Frank T. Woods of Billings, Mont., at Billings; John E. Robins of Nevada, at Elko, Nev.

GREAT EVANGELISTIC CAMPAIGN IN CITY CLOSES WITH ENTHUSIASTIC FAREWELL MEETING LAST NIGHT

HUNDREDS LIVES HELPED DURING FIVE WEEKS PREACHING

Final Day Brings Many to Dedicate Lives to Service of the Master

When the last sermon had been preached, the last number by the immense chorus choir had boomed forth, the last person had hit the saw dust trail, the last prayer had been offered, and the final benediction had been sung by the singers of the party, the evangelistic campaign lasting for five weeks, and which many declare to have been the greatest campaign in the history of Santa Ana came to a close last night, and today the preacher, Dr. W. E. Biederwolf, and his wife are on their way to Brooklyn to open a campaign there next Sunday night.

For five long weeks in the midst of the holiday season and during the press of other engagements, the people of Santa Ana have stood loyally behind the evangelist and have flocked to the tabernacle at Fifth and Broadway every evening except Monday, to listen to Dr. Biederwolf. Thousands have been saved and hundreds have been stirred up to greater interest in religion and religious work, through the activities here.

Dr. Biederwolf wound up his campaign with a wonderfully full day yesterday. Three services with the tabernacle packed to capacity, and the final meeting last night in which many people stood throughout the service, marked the culmination of the series of meetings. Last night was taken by the evangelist as a time to thank many of the ones for the part they have had in making the meetings a success. Director Heaton thanked the choir, orchestra, the music committee, of which Dr. Biederwolf was chairman before he went away, and which work was continued by Harry Warner, the accompanists and the donors of the pianos.

Farewell Words
Dr. Biederwolf began his farewell words with the verse from 2 Cor. 12:11—"Finally, brethren, farewell. Be perfect, be of good comfort, be of one mind, live in peace; and the God of love and peace shall be with you."

He thanked the people in general for their interest in the great movement. In many respects he said, the greatest meeting that he had ever conducted on the Pacific coast. He thanked the press for the large amount of space devoted to the publicity of the meetings, the pastors for their untiring support. He declared that they were the very soul of loyalty, that they had followed out every suggestion that he had made.

"Be just as loyal to your own pastors as you have been to me," declared Dr. Biederwolf, "and you will never need an evangelist. The real test of this campaign will be seen in the days that are to come. You must remember that this is something new, a new voice, a great chorus choir, new singers. When you get back to the routine, is when you get the real test."

Everyone Thanked
The evangelist went on to thank the ushers, the doorkeepers, the lady workers, those who built the tabernacle, those who put their autos at the disposal of the members of the party, the people who sent fruit to the home for the party, and members of the choir and orchestra, and everyone else who had in any way contributed to the success of the meetings.

Referring to the contribution which had been made to him personally the evangelist said that whatever the people had taken as a trust to God, that he would use it in a way in which everyone would approve.

Mentions Long Beach
In his concluding remarks and for the first time since coming to Santa Ana, Dr. Biederwolf referred to the incident at Long Beach which stirred up much unfriendly comment before he came here.

"I came to your city," said the evangelist, "in the minds of a few people, with a little shadow over me. I have not referred to that matter because of the confidence expressed in me by the ministers and people of your city. I shall never cease to criticize the sending of cigarettes to our boys in the army, and I will never cease to support the work of the Red Cross. Every loyal American citizen must and will support the Red Cross to the limit of his ability. I have always given to that organization, I have canvassed funds for it from house to house, and I expect always to support it and if I can leave any parting word with you I urge you to get behind the local Red Cross. I would like also to take a moment to urge upon you the hearty participation in the Thrift stamp. I do not know whether or not the boys and girls realize the importance of this. For 25 cents you can get one of these stamps. Every boy and girl, man and woman should get behind this movement."

Short Sermons
In his concluding sermon last night Dr. Biederwolf declared that he wished he might preach a number of short sermons. He spoke briefly of a number of points he wished to emphasize, as follows:

1. The great need of the church.
2. The power of the gospel. Never before in history has the gospel had such power as at the present time. There is not a man living today, if he was the greatest orator on earth, who could get such crowds as have packed this tabernacle for five weeks. If he talked on any other subject than the gospel of Jesus Christ.
3. The spirit of Christian fellowship and union seen here through the five weeks. Prize it people. If you are ever unfortunate enough as to get a minister who does not have this spirit of union, get rid of him as soon as possible. I do not know whether we ought to have one great American Protestant church or not, but I know we ought to have a family reunion once in a while. There will always be shades of opinion, but we will always be one in declaring for the deity of Christ and in the effort to crown Him Lord of all.
4. A word addressed to the church members of Santa Ana. You cannot live just as you did before this campaign commenced.
5. One last sermon to those who have waited until the eleventh hour. I wish I might open my heart and let you see what is there. I did not come here for your gift. If there is one soul saved from hell because of my preaching here, I would rather have that knowledge than to have all the wealth of your country.

The meeting last night resulted in a large number coming forward, many for the first time to consecrate their lives to the service of the Master. Following an impressive closing service, the singers, Heaton and Bachmeyer, sang beautifully a closing benediction, and as the last note of their singing died away, Dr. Biederwolf called out the cheerful good-bye, and the campaign for evangelism in its active work in the tabernacle was closed.

The great work of following up the activities of the evangelist are just beginning, and will be carried on through the activities of the pastors of the churches.

Christian Science Sermon Subject of Dr. Biederwolf

In his sermon yesterday afternoon Dr. W. E. Biederwolf discussed Christian Science. His address in part follows:

If Christian Science were only content to pose as a philosophy, false as its philosophy is known to be, or even its teaching is, it might be tolerated with some degree of charity as the former and applauded with some degree of enthusiasm as the latter, but Mrs. Eddy was a shrewd woman if nothing else, and she soon saw the impossibility of retaining any superior place for herself or of building up an organization of any size or degree of permanence on mere philosophy or on a science of healing, and knowing what everyone knows to be true that "wherever is humanity in religion, she forthwith proclaimed Christian Science as a revelation from God, and declared that God who nineteen hundred years ago had revealed Himself in a man and that the Almighty who had once before indited the Bible had now through her indited another book to be known as "Science and Health with a Key to the Scriptures."

It is interesting to follow her life through and see the misrepresentation, the perversion and untruth all along the way. She says: "At the age of twelve I was taken into the Congregational Church."

She tells how she disputed with the pastor and officers about some of the doctrines, and Christian Scientists, in their hasty zeal to champion Mrs. Eddy's pretended equality with Jesus Christ, have made great stock of this information and compare her with Jesus at the same age, when he argued with the doctors of the temple.

But Mrs. Eddy's statement does not tell the truth. The official record taken from the clerk's book of the Tilton Congregational church is as follows:

"1828, July 26. Received into the church, Stephen Grant, Esq., John Gilly and his wife Hannah, Mrs. Susan French, wife of William French, and Miss Mary A. M. Baker by profession, the two former receiving the ordinance of baptism."

Mrs. Eddy was born July 16, 1821. Subtract for yourself, and you will see that she was 17 and NOT 12 when taken into the church.

Strange, Mrs. Eddy couldn't remember any more nearly her age at so important an event in her life. Now what is Christian Science? Well, it's a good deal more than most Christian Science lecturers admit it to be. I have heard a few lectures on the subject and read a good many more, and as a rule they are very little that could not be preached from any orthodox pulpit. They talk of the beautiful things they find in it, but it's absurd, it's hideous and un-Christian side they leave in the background.

You are interested today more in what I claim to be the un-Christian aspect of this hideous thing, but I want just for a moment to notice its philosophy.

Christian Science as a Philosophy is a lie here. In the first place, it is not Mrs. Eddy's philosophy at all. She says Christian Science came as a revelation from God, but this part of it most surely never did. The unreality of matter is the basic concept of Berkeley's Idealistic philosophy and Christian Science from the philosophy side of it is nothing more or less than Berkeley's Idealism gone mad and pushed to the most insane and absurd conclusion.

Cold, she declares, is a thing of the imagination. (Page 78 in 164 edition.) Why then did Mrs. Eddy brave the New England winters in heavy wraps? Thirst, she says, is only imaginary. (Page 383 in 164th edition.) Why then did she drink?

Sight, she says, is not a thing of the eye; the eye is a delusion and this disease a vain imagination. (Page 250 in 164 edition.) Why then did she wear spectacles?

She says there is no power in a drug but only in the belief about the drug. Why then does she use drugs? Why then does she use opium? Why then does she use morphine, kill a man when he takes it, believing it to be quinine? Why should it kill a dog who has no belief about the matter at all?

Mrs. Eddy explains this (Page 177, Edition 1904) by saying that although the man believes the "morphine" he takes to be harmless quinine, the "majority opinion" the world over believes morphine to be poison and so it kills the man in spite of his own belief! And the dog, too!

Shades of Hippocrates! What an indomitable tyrant this "majority opinion" must be. Even a dog unconsciously swallowing strychnine is murdered by it! Here is the royal road to temperance reform. Simply induce the "majority opinion" to "allow whiskey with a nourishing quality like milk" and the reeling step of the drunkard will disappear forever. But beware of allowing this "majority opinion" to believe that milk intoxicates, for if that ever comes to pass we'll turn our nursing mothers into grog shops and see our babies roll in drunken stupor from their breasts.

Christian Science as a System of Healing
And now just a word about Christian Science as a system of healing. It is a lie here, as least in big part, as every sensible person knows. Such cures as have been effected have been nearly altogether disorders of a nervous character and most of the others claimed are pure fiction.

Mrs. Eddy says in the New York Sun, December 16, 1898:

"I have healed at one visit a cancer that had so eaten the flesh of the neck as to expose the jugular vein so that it stood out like a 'hipcord.'"

You may believe that to be the truth. I believe it to be a lie. She says she cured bones so carious they could be bent by the finger and consumptive victims whose lungs were mostly consumed. She gives no names, dates or localities, and though challenged time and again to prove the truth of her assertion, she has never even tried to do it.

Now, so far as healing is concerned, the fact that the mind has power over the body to heal it is a truth for the discovery of which this world is not indebted to Mrs. Eddy, nor any other modern pretender. This is a truth that was recognized long before old Hippocrates ever introduced medicine into the healing of disease. Plato said, "The physicians cure the body with the mind, but the mind which is sick can cure nothing." The ancient Orientals believed it and their philosophy is full of it.

But Christian Science wouldn't be so bad if it stopped at philosophy and at its claim to heal, but it is when you investigate its religious claims that its hideous and horrible character reveals itself.

If there ever was a lying imposture, it is Christian Science on its religious side. It is out and out, through and through, absolutely and altogether un-Christian.

It is Un-Christian in Its Pretended Origin
Mrs. Eddy stole her ideas from a mental healer and then ascribed them to the voice of God in her own ear. She says:

"In the year 1866 I discovered the science of metaphysical healing and named it Christian Science."

As a fake religion Mrs. Eddy is the sole proprietor and no one disputes her claim, but as a science of metaphysical healing not one jot or tittle of it belongs to her and its pretended revelation from God is, by the earliest possible demonstration, the sacrilegious lie of a past master in the art of lying machinations, compared with whom the wife of Ananias is a novice of the first degree.

And now for the demonstration. A man ought not to talk unless he can deliver the proof for what he says. In October, 1862, Mrs. Eddy, who was then Mrs. Patterson—(You know this woman, who calls marriage "idealized lust," was herself married three times and some say four times. When twenty-two she married Mr. G. W. Glover, a bricklayer. He died in three months. Later she married one Daniel Patterson, an itinerant dentist. He deserted her and Mrs. Eddy got a divorce. She declares herself opposed to divorce except on spiritual grounds, but the Salem, Mass., court records prove her divorce was granted on the ground of desertion.

January 1, 1877, she tried it again and this time became Mrs. Eddy. In the record her age is given as forty, but if she was born in the year she says she was, she was then a blushing bride of fifty-six instead of a winsome young thing of forty as the record claims. One great trouble with Mrs. Mary Baker Glover Patterson Eddy was she didn't know how to tell the truth. I don't know how hard she ever tried to tell it but she seems never to have succeeded. To her revelation with Mr. Frye after Mr. Eddy's death I will not refer, but will call your attention to the fact that she started to say—in October, 1862, she put herself under the treatment of one P. P. Quimby, a mental healer of Portland, Maine.

Now notice, Quimby died in 1866, the very year Mrs. Eddy says she discovered Christian Science.

This woman, this strange perverter of the truth, further says that immediately after her recovery from an injury caused by a fall on the ice she withdrew from society about three years to ponder my mission and to search the scriptures, etc."

The fact of the matter is that for these three years she was living by invitation in the home of Mrs. Sally Wentworth, at Stoughton, Mass., and while there was teaching the mental healing. This she taught from a manuscript entitled, "Extracts from Doctor P. P. Quimby's Writings." A copy of this same manuscript is now in the possession of Mr. Horace Wentworth and a comparison of it with Mrs. Eddy's Christian Science of this age will reveal that fact that they are absolutely, so far as every fundamental concept is concerned, one and the same.

And so instead of getting her so-called Christian Science as a revelation from God, it is as clear as day-light that she appropriated it bodily from the writings and the manuscript of good old Dr. Quimby, a one-time metaphysical healer up in the state of Maine, who called his system of healing Christian Science as early as 1863, although Mrs. Eddy says she discovered it in 1866 and called it Christian Science.

What will doubtless interest you most is the fact that Christian Science is un-Christian in its teaching.

First, it is un-Christian in its ethical teaching.

Christian Science teaches that marriage is "synonymous with legalized lust."

If you find it hard to believe that Mrs. Eddy could ever have given utterance to such disgusting and contemptible opinions, look in the Christian Science Journal for July, 1906.

This many times married woman puts a ban on this sweet and holy ordinance of God. Children, she calls, "sensual and mortal beliefs." (Page 561 in 75th edition, revised.)

"Until it be learned that generation rests on no sexual basis, let marriage continue." (Page 274 in 75th edition, revised.)

"To abolish marriage," she says, "at this period and maintain morality and generation would put ingenuity to ludicrous shifts, yet this is possible in Science." (Miscellaneous, page 286.)

Heaven deliver the American home from such teaching! God save our pure girls from its blight!

A charming doctrine this for people of self-respect! And yet thousands, if they are true to "Science" make it a part of their life's ideal.

Second, it is un-Christian in its doctrinal teaching.

Christian Science denies the personality of God.

Mrs. Eddy says, "God is principle, not a person."

Mrs. Eddy says, "God is not a person who can say 'I' or be addressed as 'Thou.'"

The Bible says, "I am the Lord thy God, the holy One of Israel, thy Saviour. Fear not, for I have redeemed thee; I have called thee by thy name; thou art mine." Isaiah 43:1.

Could there be a plainer denial of the personality of God?

Christian Science denies the existence of sin.

Mrs. Eddy says, "Man is incapable of sin." (Page 475, edition 1904.)

The Bible says, "If we say we have not sinned we make God a liar." I John 1:10.

Mrs. Eddy says, "If soul could sin spirit would be material instead of spiritual." (Page 204, 151st edition.)

The Bible says, "The soul that sinneth it shall die." Ezekiel 18:4.

Could there be a plainer denial of the existence of sin?

Christian Science denies the Holy Spirit.

Mrs. Eddy says, "The Comforter I understand to be Divine Science." (Page 55, edition 1902.)

Mrs. Eddy says, "John the Baptist declared that Jesus was the Messiah who would baptize with the Holy Ghost—Divine Science." (Page 513, edition 1888.)

The Bible says, "I will pray the Father and He will send you another Comforter, even the Spirit of Truth; ye know Him for He dwelleth with you and He shall be in you." John 14:16.

Could there be a plainer denial of the Holy Spirit?

Christian Science denies the privilege and power of prayer.

Mrs. Eddy says, "Prayer to a personal God is an error that impedes spiritual growth." (Page 2, edition 1902.)

The Bible says, "After this manner pray ye, Our Father who art in heaven." Matthew 6:9.

Christian Science denies the second coming of Christ.

Mrs. Eddy says, "The second appearance of Jesus is unquestionably the spiritual advent of the advancing idea of God in Christian Science." (Blasphemy.) (Autobiography, page 96.)

The Bible says, "This same Jesus shall so come again in like manner as ye have seen Him go." Acts 1:11.

Could there be a plainer denial of the second coming of Christ?

Christian Science denies the Atonement of Christ.

Mrs. Eddy says, "One sacrifice, however great is insufficient to pay the debt of sin." (Page 23, edition 1902.)

RUBOTTOM GETS COLONEL SHIP OF U. S. ARMY IN FRANCE

Former Santa Ana Man Advances In Ranks of the Fighting Forces

A former Santa Ana man today is a colonel in the American army in France. Holly Rubottom, well known to old-timers here and who received his early schooling in this city, is the man. His brother, Chas. Rubottom, former jeweler of this city, was here from Globe, Ariz., the latter part of last week visiting old friends, and told of Holly's advancement.

Rubottom has been in the regular army for a number of years, holding various commissions. His promotion to the rank of colonel indicates his efficiency.

BILLION DOLLARS NEED FOR R. R. EFFICIENCY

had been little relieved since control went into effect.

It is the claim of many that McAdoo sought to relieve the freight jam by shutting industries instead of using a more direct route—placing an embargo on non-essentials in freight shipments, advocated by the fuel administration.

Now officials say the close down order will result in only moderate relief from the coal tie-up and the embargo will be necessary, in addition—five days later.

Funds Needed
McAdoo said his survey of the rail situation has convinced him Government funds must go into the roads to help them expand. He forecasts the continuation of Government control for some time when he said Congress should not limit Government control to any definite period. If Government control is limited to the duration of the war or for a fixed time afterwards, McAdoo warned the committee, financial chaos is likely when the roads are turned back.

Hasty and ill-considered legislation now, he said, would be ruinous to holders of railroad securities when the Government relinquishes control of the lines.

For this reason, McAdoo urged that the committee report the pending railroad bill as written, with the provision that Government control shall continue until Congress shall otherwise order.

Opposed to U. S. Ownership
McAdoo's statement that he does not believe in Government ownership in answer to a question by Senator Watson of Indiana, an outspoken foe of Government ownership.

"Mr. Secretary, do you believe in Government ownership?" asked Watson.

"I do not," replied McAdoo. "But I believe it will be impossible to return to competitive conditions as they were before the Government stepped in. There will have to be a greater measure of Government control and regulation henceforth than we have had in the past."

"And if you now limit the period of Government control, you may make impossible new legislation to meet the situations that may arise."

"We must use our best foresight. To throw the roads back to private control with competition destroyed and with one line carrying business at the expense of another would be a grave mistake."

"Do you think the power to fix rates should be taken from the Interstate Commerce Commission and the various state commissions?" asked Senator Kellogg.

"Should Not Hamper President
"When the President is operating the railroads, I think it extremely unwise to hamper him in rate fixing matters to meet any emergency," declared McAdoo.

McAdoo cited his recent action in New York in ordering coal trains moved through the Pennsylvania tunnel as an instance where it was necessary arbitrarily to set aside local control.

Freight movement through the tunnel is very restricted under the public service commission, he said. "If I had to file an application to move this freight and wait decision of the commission, Long Island people would have frozen to death," he said.

"That means, then," said Senator Kellogg, "that the rate fixing during the war and until Congress acts would be up to one man?"

"He has the power to do so. He may not use it," said McAdoo.

"He has a great many powers he doesn't exercise."

"I haven't heard of any he hasn't exercised," said Kellogg.

McAdoo was asked how long, in his opinion, it would be necessary for the Government to retain control of the lines.

"That all depends on the length of the war," replied McAdoo. "If it lasts six months or a year, the period required to liquidate the roads' affairs and turn them back will be comparatively short. But if it lasts three to five years the period of liquidation naturally will be longer. Nobody can tell definitely; that's why Congress should not put a hard and fast limit on the period of Government control."

Coachella Valley recently shipped its first car of lettuce for the season. Imperial Valley has shipped over 600,000 pounds of turkey.

COUNTRY BOY OUT IN CHALLENGE FOR CONTEST

Says He Can Beat City Chaps In Accumulating War Thrift Stamps

Here, you "city kiddies."

A country lad of Anaheim has thrown out a challenge for a contest in the savings of money for the purchase of war thrift stamps. And while he is doing this he is giving you a tip on his method of doing business.

Here is what he has written to Earl Abbey of Anaheim, publicity correspondent of the war-savings stamp campaign:

As I am too small to go to war, I can spend my time writing essays, and buying Thrift Stamps with the money I earn mowing lawns and selling papers. It's a big idea, the Thrift Stamp, and I say that all of us boys and girls should get right down to brass tacks and own a book full. 'Twas not long ago that my ma sent in three or four books full of little green stamps and they sent her a table-spoon, that's all. Now I figure that if she could fill four books in a year of my government, and say, I'll have all kinds of money when they mature in 1923. I got dad to quit smoking and give me 25 cents a day; that is what his smokes cost him. I've got him interested in the game, and every night he brings me home a stamp. I got some subscribers for a newspaper, and got a lot of stamps. I bought $1 worth of stamps from the German-American Bank and they gave me one for nothing. Everybody seems to want to help me get one of those big War-Savings Stamps. I'd just like to run a race with any guy in town when it comes to buying stamps. I'll bet I can beat 'em a mile. If you see any kids that want to run a race, tell 'em about me and we'll start. I'm going to write an essay and try to get some more coin to buy stamps with, and I want you to let me know when you start that contest. Well, I want to help our government and the soldiers, and everybody and you can count on me to do my bit. Say, don't forget to tell some kids about me. I think I can make 'em feel sore at themselves. Tell the guys to get busy.

Yours for more stamps,
A. WESTFALL,
No. 7, Anaheim, Cal.

P. S.—I live in the country, but when it comes to beating the city kids I can do that too.

AUTHOR 'THE DEVIL IN MEXICO' AT NEWPORT

Newport News:—Rev. G. L. Morrill, accompanied by his wife and son, Lowell Morrill, arrived Monday for a visit with Mrs. Morrill's brother, L. S. Wilkinson. Their home is in Minneapolis, Minn., where Rev. Morrill has the pastorate of the People's Church, which was founded and organized by him. He is a man who has traveled a great deal and writes entertainingly as well as vividly of the countries he has visited. His latest book, "The Devil in Mexico," is just out, and gives one an opportunity to learn at close range the tragedy of our revolution-torn neighbor republic.

Rev. Morrill also visited a portion of South America, and, as a result of his trip, there appeared the book, "Rotten Republics," written by him, in which he lambasts the crookedness of the olive-skinned politicians of the tropics. In speaking of Carranza, the writer pays the provisional ruler of Mexico this loving and glowing tribute: "The C in Carranza stands for cussedness, cunning, crookedness and cruelty."

ARMY IS GATHERING STENOGRAPHER ARMY

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 21.—There is today in the city of Washington in active operation an army whose exploits attract little notice, but whose members are doing a very large bit toward winning the war for America—an army of stenographers and typists, twelve thousand strong, recruited from every state in the Union. A majority of these soldiers of the notebook and typewriter are girls. Day in and day out their nimble fingers faithfully click out the tremendous volume of correspondence and records required by a great nation at war. They wear no badge nor uniform; their work is all work and has no thrill nor romance; but the United States could not stay in the war a month without them.

The rapidly expanding departments of the government in Washington employ stenographers and typists with a greed that seems insatiable. The United States Civil Service Commission estimates that there will be twenty thousand government employees of this class in Washington at the end of this year. Owing to the general demand the commission is finding it a difficult task to meet the calls of the departments.

Examinations are held every Tuesday in 450 cities, and the commission states that an examination will be held in any city at any time, day or night, when there is prospect of assembling a class of three or four competitors. Eligibility may be obtained through passing an examination in practical tests in shorthand and typewriting. It is practicable to complete such an examination in one hour. Representatives of the Civil Service Commission at the post offices in all cities are furnishing definite information to persons interested.

IMPETUS GIVEN ORGANIZATION OF JUNIOR'S RED CROSS

Exhibit Shows Splendid Work Being Done By One of the Societies

The organization of Junior Red Cross societies was given a decided impetus by a meeting held at the Intermediate school last Saturday. Two factors served to make the meeting a big success. One was the visit of H. H. Hush, field agent of the Red Cross in charge of Junior Red Cross organization, and the other was the exhibit of work actually done by children of the Intermediate school.

The meeting, arranged for by Miss Hazel Bemus, chairman of the Junior Red Cross committee of the Santa Ana chapter, and other members of the chapter committee, was attended by nearly fifty women, representing no less than thirteen school districts of Orange county. As a direct result of the meeting several junior societies will be formed within the next week or ten days. Hush explained the work thoroughly, and detailed the methods of securing an organization.

Garden Grove Applies
Miss Bemus has received the application of the Garden Grove school, signed by Miss Archer, for permission to organize. Olinda, Newport Beach, Anaheim and Fullerton representatives said that the work would proceed at once.

Among those present were Miss Mary M. Worley, Mrs. Edith Wallace, Miss Florence E. Rodgers, Miss Margaret Way, Dr. Raiche and Mrs. Hatlie McKenney, Newport Beach; Miss Georgia Stebbins, Miss Ethel Dwyer, Huntington Beach; Miss Irene Jaques, Santa Ana R. D.; Mrs. Wm. Annin, Miss Ida B. McAdoo, Miss Rita C. Good, Fullerton; Miss Enderle, Tustin; Mrs. I. C. Brown, Olinda; Miss Jeanne M. Knap, Mrs. E. E. Jahraus, Laguna Beach; Mrs. E. G. Hayes, Paulino; Mrs. F. E. Palmer, Santa Ana; Miss Emma Wickersheim, Mrs. H. A. Lake, Garden Grove; Miss Mildred H. Mansur, Fullerton; Miss Elizabeth Renshaw, Anaheim.

The members of the Santa Ana chapter's Junior Red Cross committee are: Miss Hazel Bemus, chairman; Miss Fannie Pease, Miss Dorothy Boyle, J. A. Cranston, Miss Nell Clinean.

Miss Boyle, Miss Henry and A. E. Henning have been appointed as a committee to take charge of the organization of the Junior Red Cross at Santa Ana High School.

Splendid Exhibit
"What can the children do?"

They can do a lot. They are doing a whole lot, indeed, as was shown in the exhibit at the Intermediate School Saturday.

The Intermediate Red Cross is doing several dozen different things. It is specializing on using scrap materials. Cast off caps, old underwear, and numerous other pieces of old clothing are being made over into things to be worn by children in France, where the need is great.

There are piles of boxes, some full and some being filled with the sewing and knitting of the Red Cross girls and boys—for some of the boys are knitting.

The boys and girls are gathering salvage, and they are getting a lot of it. An examination of the things being done is a revelation. The amount of work being done here will be increased tremendously when the new societies get to work.

ORANGE COUNTY TAKES FIFTH PLACE NUMBER MARRIAGES IN 1917

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 21.—Marriage figures for the year show that Mars and Dan Cupid are allies, according to George D. Leslie, director of the state bureau of registration. According to reports of county recorders to Leslie, the year of America's entry into the war was a big one for weddings.

Increases in marriages was greater in cities located near army or navy camps. Marriages of soldiers at Camp Kearny jumped San Diego county from fifth place in 1916 to fourth place in 1917. For San Mateo county, where Camp Fremont is located, the marriage total rose from 326 in 1916 to 505 in 1917.

The apparent increase of 765 marriages in San Francisco represents a real gain of between 1300 and 1400 for the year, as the number of Japanese wedding at San Francisco dropped from 608 in 1916 to 40 in 1917 on account of the new rules for the admission of Japanese picture brides without need of their being married American style.

The figures for the leading counties in California in 1917 as compared with 1916 are:

County	1916	1917
Los Angeles	6910	7888
San Francisco	5981	6746
Alameda	2774	3540
San Diego	1332	1661
Orange	1467	1502

"My Country 'Tis of Thee, Sweet Land of Liberty."

THE "MUTILATED" SPEECH

It was accepted as a matter of course that a diplomatic document so important to Germany as President Wilson's peace-terms address to Congress would not receive full and accurate publication in Germany. The Koelnische Zeitung furnishes corroboration of that view, explaining that the German newspapers "do not think it worth while to publish the complete text" of the President's speech.

The Zeitung contents itself with printing only a few extracts of the speech "in order to give its readers a sample of Wilson's illogical and unheeded views."

This is a familiar device of dishonest partisanship, whether in politics or war. Even American readers might look upon many of the President's war views as "illogical and unheeded" if they were printed only in the form of short extracts, outside of their natural setting, without the accompanying facts and comment that render them logical and convincing.

Such newspapers as the Berlin Tageblatt, the Vossische Zeitung and the Deutsche Tageszeitung print what they declare to be the "full text" of the President's "impertinent" speech, with the explanation that it was received in a "rather mutilated form." Casual inspection of that "full text" shows that the President's references to the "partnership of peoples," "German intrigues," the "falsehoods that have kept the German people in the dark," etc., are entirely omitted.

The omissions are easily understood, in the light of the facts in possession of our State Department at Washington. Those facts provide detailed proof of what we have long known in a general way—the iron control of the German press by the German government. It consists of a set of instructions issued to the German newspapers by the censor at Berlin, telling the editors precisely how they are expected to suppress and distort the truth, to magnify or minimize facts, to ignore domestic troubles, to belittle the importance of the United States, etc.

The "mutilation" referred to by the papers mentioned was done in this case by the helpful hand of the German government. In so vital a matter, it doesn't do to let the biggest editors in Germany use their own slavish discretion.

So it happens once more that the only way of getting into Germany a statement of incalculable value to the German nation is to smuggle it across the trenches or drop it over the border from airplanes. That is being done. But it is a slow process. And because of its slowness, it is still necessary to continue the crude and distasteful alternative of shooting truth into Germany from gun-muzzles.

STYLE AND STUFF

The Retail Shoe Dealers Association in convention at Chicago has announced that better shoes can be bought for $4 and $5 than for $25, and that the very best boots made for women can be purchased for $8 or $9.

This is not an admission that in charging from $9 to $13 for "anything you'd look at" the retailers have been indulging in shameless profiteering. The shoe dealers go on to say that "style is what people crave, and they must pay for it."

The stylish shoes which have been making such holes in pocketbooks for the past few years are made of materials inferior in quality to those which cost less. They are far less comfortable. Women have been paying not for worth of goods or workmanship, not for comfort or durability, but for that elusive thing called style. This is not strange. It is what women always pay for.

personality of the wearer, which will be beautiful two or three years, can be made for $10 or $12. Gowns of the best textiles, durable and beautiful for every moment of their existence, can be made for $30—after for less. Shoes of lines which combine grace with normal foot-health can be purchased for half the cost of the ugly, deforming ones so widely seen.

These things are platitudes. Why women prefer the ugly to the beautiful just because the ugly may be stylish no stylish women knows. But artists know. They call it "the corruption of the human eye."

Now, with conservation of goods and of energy urgent, would it not be a good time to educate eyes a little? To develop the physical sense of beauty and spiritual sense of proportion a little? To make an effort to dress with real beauty, in fabrics, whether on heads or feet, which satisfy the soul as well as the body, instead of following every silly style like silly sheep and clothing our bodies with shoddy stuffs which outrage self-respect?

SPEAKING OF INTRIGUE

The reason why the German government objected to taking the Russian peace conference to Stockholm, according to the Berlin Tageblatt, was simply this:

"The Germans feared that the British, French and American diplomats and agents buzzing around Stockholm would promptly weave a net of intrigue around the conference, making successful negotiations impossible."

Thus we have, by implication, an unintentionally frank confession of what the German diplomats themselves were doing at Brest-Litovsk—till the Russians, woke up. The Germans didn't want any competition in the "intrigue" business.

Bud Flivver's Observations

 I received a letter—From a mother—And she asks—What do I think—About her daughter—Going to a military ball—Where there will be—A lot of sailors—And soldiers—

 And she says—Her daughter—Is a pretty girl—And is very attractive—To young men—

 And I am not—A heart doctor—And am not—On the committee—On moral welfare—Of unprotected girls—

 And I would—Say to that mother—If her girl is sensible—And the right sort—Perhaps there would—Be no harm—In going to the dance—

 But there should be—A lot of provisions—To see that no harm—Comes to her—

 And I would say—That soldiers—And sailors—Are no worse—At a dance—Than any other men—And they are better—Than lots of others—That parade as gentlemen—

 And there will be—No harm—In going to the dance—If the mother—Will go along—Or send some safe chaperone—Who is not herself—A giddy thing—

 And if she is—A pretty girl—Like her mother says—She should wear—Something more—Than a necklace—And a wide girdle—

 And she should not—Leave the ballroom—With any sort—Of male person—For even a minute—

 And if the mother—Allows the girl—To take a walk—At night—With a soldier—Or any other man—She will be to blame—If things go wrong—

 And I would judge—From what she says—About the daughter—Being attractive—That the mother—Has told the girl—What a catch she is—

 And that—Is a bad notion—For any mother—To put into—Her daughter's head—No matter how pretty—She may be—

 And anyhow—I was just wondering—Why it is—That so many mothers—Fail to use—The good sense—God gave geese—

 And why it is—That they will—Write and ask—Fool questions—About things pertaining—To the welfare—Of their daughters—By Bud.

San Francisco's Municipal Railroads a Great Success

The municipal railways of San Francisco have paid their bills, paid for important service extensions, paid all interest charges on their bonds, met their bonds as they have matured, and laid up a heap of gold in the county treasury as clear profit of $9,526,874.

The above statement is made following the filing of the report of the system up to November 30, 1917, and in response to published and many private requests for a statement of the financial condition of the system.

Since the city borrowed the money to build the municipal railways, the gross receipts of the road have been $7,236,036.02. The volume of receipts has steadily grown as extensions from time to time have developed the system. Both the scope and the success of the municipal railways have grown and in every way they have justified themselves.

The cost of operating has been $4,221,188.50, showing the remarkable excess of revenue over operation of $3,014,847.52.

Out of this excess the road has paid interest on its bonds, $800,584.53.

The total remainder is surplus and out of this surplus $303,000 of the money originally borrowed has been repaid.

In other words, the roads are paying interest on the money that created them, and in also paying back that money are rapidly buying themselves for the people of San Francisco.

Out of the earnings the administration has built extensions of the system from time to time costing and worth $593,432.17, and yet there is a present credit in the treasury of $1,317,830.82, invested in high-class bonds or otherwise earning interest.

Attacks are constantly made upon the municipal railroads by persons who oppose municipal ownership. There are many who have powerful financial interests opposed to municipal ownership, but to their attacks, made in many ways, it can be said: the roads are paying for themselves and have a big balance in addition for extensions or for other purposes as the city of San Francisco may see fit.

Mayor Rolph, when we were advocating the building of the lines, was told he was buying a "gold brick."

"Not a gold brick, a gold mine," he replied, and the big pile of nickels brought to the treasury every day is proof that the municipal ownership of street transportation, conducted, as it is in San Francisco, free of politics and on the best business lines, is in reality as good as a gold mine.

As the roads pay off their bonds interest payments will decrease and their business is constantly on the increase. The outcome is obvious. The city will ultimately own, without indebtedness, a great income-earning property, paid for out of its own receipts, bringing in a huge profit year by year, and all the time giving the public a service in street transportation never before equaled anywhere.

People who have the welfare of municipal ownership at heart may rest satisfied with the condition of the San Francisco municipal railroads, and may freely assert their complete and continued success.

CHORUS CHOIR TO BE HEARD IN CONCERT

The chorus choir, which has been working together for the past five weeks under the leadership of James Heaton, in connection with the Biedewolf evangelistic campaign, will give a concert tonight at the labor temple at 7:30 consisting of patriotic and sacred numbers. The chorus will be assisted by the orchestra, and by special vocal numbers by Messrs. Bachmeyer and Heaton and by the Evangelical Women's quartet.

SEAL BEACH CLEARS
WAY TO IMPROVEMENT

SEAL BEACH, Jan. 21.—At the city council meeting specifications were adopted for the improvement of Main street. This clears the way for the resolutions and ordinances that will mean the beginning of actual work soon. It is the intention of the trustees to rush the improvement of this street just as fast as possible, but they are going at it carefully so as to leave no loopholes that will mean another postponement.

L AN ELKIRK as Madge in "Old Kentucky," attraction at the Grand Opera House on Saturday evening of this week.

No play before the public stands the wear and tear of time as well as does "In Old Kentucky," to be given at the Opera House Saturday night, January 26. In the hearts of the play-going public it never grows old. Charles T. Dazey wrote the play more than twenty years ago. From its first presentation it has never been withdrawn from the American stage for a single theatrical season, and during all these years it has been controlled by the same management and has always been cast and presented with care and attention. Now in the twenty-third year of its career, it remains as fresh, as new and as enjoyable as ever. Plays may come and plays may go, but "In Old Kentucky" is a fixture in the land.

FIRE SATURDAY P. M.
CAUSED BY OIL STOVE

Several buildings on East Fourth street, near the East Fourth street hardware store, were threatened at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon by a fire that broke out in a room occupied by a Mexican. He was cooking with an oil stove. It was setting close to the wall, and flames communicated to the wall and started a fire. The fire department was called, but the Mexican had the fire almost subdued when it arrived.

With the wind blowing as it was in the afternoon, considerable damage would have resulted had the flames developed a real fire.

MAY ASK RAISE IN GAS RATE HERE
TO OVER $1

Santa Monica Officials Are to Make Fight at Hearing Before Commission

In changing from artificial gas to natural gas at Santa Monica, the Southern Counties Gas Company has asked that the State Railroad Commission fix reasonable rates. The officials at Santa Monica believe that it is the intention of the gas company to try to get more than $1 per 1000 cubic feet for natural gas. Natural gas is delivered to Santa Ana at 75 cents per 1000 cubic feet. If it is proposed to ask over $1 for natural gas at Santa Monica the gas company may propose to raise the rate here to over $1.

Santa Monica is going to fight any proposal to raise rates, and will be on hand at the hearing in Los Angeles on February 13 to protest against any raise. It is expected that Orange county incorporated cities will be represented at that hearing lest the rates in this county be shoved up through a lack of understanding on the part of the Railroad Commission in the situation here. There is no question here but that the commission proposes at all times to give everybody a square deal.

The following is from a Santa Monica correspondent of a Los Angeles paper:

"Not only will the city of Santa Monica fight the proposed increase in the gas rate that is to be asked for by the Southern Counties Gas Company, but it will ask for a reduction in the present price. The hearing of the petition of the gas company will come up before the State Railroad Commission on February 13. It is expected that other cities adjacent to Los Angeles will take similar action. Commissioner of Public Works W. H. Carter of Santa Monica declared yesterday that the overhead expenses of the company are out of all proportion and could be materially reduced by abolishing many branch offices.

"It is one of the most outrageous bits of war profiteering that has ever come to my attention, and coming as it does just when the company has introduced natural gas, is the way Commissioner Carter expressed himself at the meeting of the commissioners.

City Attorney McLucas said: "At present the whole of Santa Monica Bay district is being supplied with a very inferior grade of gas. The consumer is compelled to use a third more gas than formerly to obtain the same amount of heat. Santa Monica Bay consumers are now paying $1 per 1000 feet for gas for which Los Angeles pays 80 cents per thousand and San Pedro $1.10. I can see of no reason why we should pay more now, using natural gas than we did when using artificial gas."

RED CROSS TEA

High School Girls' League Meets With Miss Helen Hargett Saturday

The Girls' League of the Polytechnic high school, which has been giving Red Cross teas and making them very profitable as well as pleasant for those who attend, held one of the series on Saturday afternoon at the home of Miss Helen Hargett at 918 Lacy street.

The rooms were made attractive by clusters of vivid poinsettias and the girls passed the time with straightening out the quantities of tin foil, which has been gathered at Red Cross headquarters as this salvage must be in straight sheets before it is accepted.

During the afternoon, Miss Blanche Hill pleased the guests with lively piano music and Miss Hargett served the workers with delicious hot chocolate and sandwiches.

Those present were Misses Blossom Ward, Helen Sylvester, Mildred Ward, Marian Scudder, Luella and Florence Neff, Margaret Lyon, Christine Watson, Lillian Martin, Blanche Hill, Mildred Warner, Josephine Scott, Lorraine Roberts, Muriel McPhee, Cynthia Munger, Virginia Bell and Rebecca Joplin.

LITTLE MOTHER

Little mother, little mother, with the shadows in your eyes
And the icy hand of Fear about your heart,
You cannot help your boy prepare to make his sacrifice
Unless you make yours bravely at the start!

He is training, as a million others train;
He is giving what the others give—their best;
Make him feel your faith in him, though your troubled eyes grow dim;
Let him know that you can stand the acid test!

Because he's found his duty, he's not lost!
Because he's joined the colors he's not dead!
Through your mother-love, my dear, keep him steady, keep him near
To the soul he loves—your soul—what'er the cost!

You aren't alone in heartaches or in doubts,
All mothers feel this burden, newly coined;
Then call your trembling pride to your colors—to your side—
"Be a sport!" and make him glad that he has joined.

Little mother, little mother, with the shadows in your eyes
And the icy hand of Fear about your heart,
There is this that you can do: "Play the game," there honor lies.
Now your boy and country needs you—do your part!

QUIET MARRIAGE

Miss Kassa Bailey Becomes Bride of Louis Briggs at South Pasadena

A wedding of great interest here was solemnized on Saturday at high noon at St. James Episcopal church at South Pasadena, when Miss Kassa V. M. Bailey, daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. J. G. Bailey, pioneers of this city and Louis Wellington Briggs, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Briggs, plighted their troth.

Rev. W. H. Wotton, formerly rector at the Church of the Messiah here, officiated at the ceremony, the rites being witnessed only by immediate relatives, owing to the recent death of the bride's mother and the short notice of only an hour and a half that the groom had been called to active duty in his country's service.

After the ceremony, Mr. Briggs joined his company of the Naval Reserve at San Pedro and his bride returned to her home here.

The young people are very popular among their large circle of friends here and their hosts of friends will extend their hearty congratulations and best wishes.

FOR ORPHANS' BENEFIT Junior College and High School to Give Program January 25

The pebble thrown into the water makes ever-increasing circles, widening to an extent far beyond the size of the pebble thrown. So does a good act grow and spread, bringing happiness not only to the giver and the receiver, but carries an example and an enthusiasm to all who come within its radius.

A few weeks ago the students of the Junior College and High School adopted several French orphans. The method of adoption implies a payment of only $3 a month for each orphan, but these young folks are not content with this and at Christmas time boxes of things other than necessities were sent to these little sufferers, to whom even the necessary things of life have not always been available. The following letter is from the mother of one of the orphans adopted by the High School:

"I was very much pleased to receive your letter today telling me of the great kindness of the American students in adopting my little daughter, Eva. She and I were very happy to think that the American children did not forget us but, on the contrary, want to be our benefactors.

The dear, brave father left us forever at the beginning of the war. He was wounded fatally and died from his wounds in the hospital at Verdun. Our dear little Eva was 3 years old when her father left her. I have another little girl, Paulette Hours, who was born three months after her father's death. Today she is 3 years old and Eva is 6. I shall be very glad to get the gifts from you good Americans. I am 34 years old. I was left an orphan at an early age and for that reason have no relatives to help me. If any one would like to adopt my Paulette I should be most grateful and very glad to correspond with him.

Thanking you for your kindness, I am,
Respectfully yours,
V. HOURS.

Use Soothing Musterole

When those sharp pains go shooting through your head, when your skull seems as if it would split, just rub a little Musterole on your temples and neck. It draws out the inflammation, soothes away the pain, usually giving quick relief.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister. Many doctors and nurses frankly recommend Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, dumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet—colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). I see by your letter that you are going to send us some clothing. We shall be very glad indeed of that. Thank you again, dear benefactors.
V. H.

The letter from the mother of the little Paulette, whose dear, brave father left his little family after the first battle of Verdun, never to see the little child who came three months afterward, did not fall on the ears of heedless young folks, but on the ears of steady, thoughtful students whose hearts respond bravely to General Pershing's cry to "Buck up France." The members of the Junior College and High School are planning a really worthwhile entertainment and this will be given at the High School assembly hall, Friday, January 25. An admission fee of 25 cents will be charged. Already a program of high merit has been arranged, including a play by Mr. Phillips' dramatic class, and various artists in music and readings.

These students deserve the encouragement of the public in their altruistic efforts and a crowded hall should reward them. Mark the date—January 25—and "do your duty" to yourselves and the students by buying tickets, and let the entertainment bring a sum worthy the program, the effort and the cause.

Italian Worker to Speak
Will the women of Santa Ana bear in mind the lecture in the First Presbyterian church, Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, sharply, by Madam Angelini, who will picture for you war service work among the Italian boys? Madam Angelini is a very fascinating speaker, with a helpful message and deserving of a good audience as only Santa Ana can give.

Red Cross Activities

Our Christmas Sign

The Magi of old beheld His star,
And from the East they journeyed far
To worship Him, the dear Christ child,
While at his feet their gifts they piled.
They deemed no gift for Him too great;
Shall we let them of ancient date
Outdo His children of today?
What is that sign that leads the way
As did the gleaming star of old?
'Tis His Red Cross, let all behold,
This symbol given to lead mankind
Thru service great the Christ to find.
—Flora H. Welch.

Wanted—Ten pajama makers on Friday of next week at the North Side headquarters. Piece work. Come early and spend the day. Bring cup and spoon, coffee provided. Do not forget the date. No references required. Miss Lois Tedford and Mrs. Bartholomew will assist with new directions for garments.

Mrs. J. P. Hatfield and Mrs. J. E. Liebig report one hundred new knitters all knitting socks.

Mrs. W. E. Winslow is resting for awhile, but still devotes a few hours each day to the knitting at the armory. Knitters are still in demand, and yarn is refused to no one who is willing to learn. Plenty of yarn at Armory and at North Side.

Twenty-three members are enrolled in the surgical class instructed by Mrs. Russell Scott, on Wednesdays.

Mrs. J. P. Baumgartner and Mrs. H. T. Duckett will give an auction bridge party on next Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Baumgartner.

Mrs. Wm. F. Lutz and Mrs. R. R. Shafer will entertain at cards on Thursday, January 31, at the home of Mrs. Lutz.

Mrs. King, wife of Senator Lyman N. King of Riverside, now of France, will speak at the next meeting of the Eboli Society, in regard to the Red Cross Shop at the Armory. We sell everything. We ask for clothes, toys, jams, preserved fruit, jelly, bric-a-brac, pictures, anything you want to give old or new. What you don't need we do, what we have you need. Open soon. Come and see.

Have you a little dead whale in your home? Or a hair switch or a "rat" or a "Jane" that isn't working? Or a moth-eaten overcoat disgracing your wardrobe? Or any empty bottles, castor beans, corks, tin cans or rusty monkey-wrenches, newspapers, gunnysacks, rubber hose, cloth hose or steel hose, fruit jars, wafer tins, kid gloves or cold cream jars? If you have any of these things and they be "old and feeble and worn" and if you also have a desire to do your country and humanity in general a good turn, take them to Red Cross headquarters and deposit them in care of the salvage department.

Who will loan counters, showcases, a cash register, a writing desk and clothes racks to the Red Cross Shop? Telephone 738-J (mornings).

Save laundry boxes, wrapping paper, and twine and donate them to the Red Cross Shop.

Mrs. O. H. Egge has a class of seven-teen working on surgical bandages on Wednesdays.

The Red Cross Shop is to be entirely supported by donations. Look over your possessions and see if you have anything you wish to sacrifice for the cause.

The American Red Cross has carried the first relief from this country to Sardinia. A cablegram from Rome today said Captain Carroll and Stevens, representing the Red Cross, arrived at Sardinia Dec. 17 and made a motor trip through the island. In the chief cities the streets were bedecked with flags and the visitors were welcomed by shouts of "Viva America."

The National Biscuit company is displaying a service flag that contains 702 stars. This represents the company's contribution to Uncle Sam's fighting forces. Nearly six percent of the male employees are represented on the service flag. More than one-third of the employees of the company are women.

First Soldier in the Trenches—Ain't that just my luck?
Second Soldier—What's the matter now?

First Soldier—With all the pretty girls there are in the states knitting sweaters for soldiers I have to draw one with a note pinned to it saying it was knitted by a man.—Detroit Free Press.

Wintersburg has organized and has already sent in some finished work. The Berrydale and Alamitos societies work with the Garden Grove branch of the Red Cross. A surgical dressing class has been organized at Garden Grove.

A Red Cross worker heard some one say the other day that some of the women who are putting in many hours every week at headquarters are being paid. The story was without foundation, of course, for none of the women is being paid. Not one cent goes to salaries. Occasionally a janitor has to be hired, but the work, the time and the energy of the manager, her assistants, the committee chairmen, the class leaders and the workers are given loyally and freely.

Patients will find the Private Hospital at 209 Edgewood Road, a pleasant place. Experienced nurse in charge. Phone 654-J2.

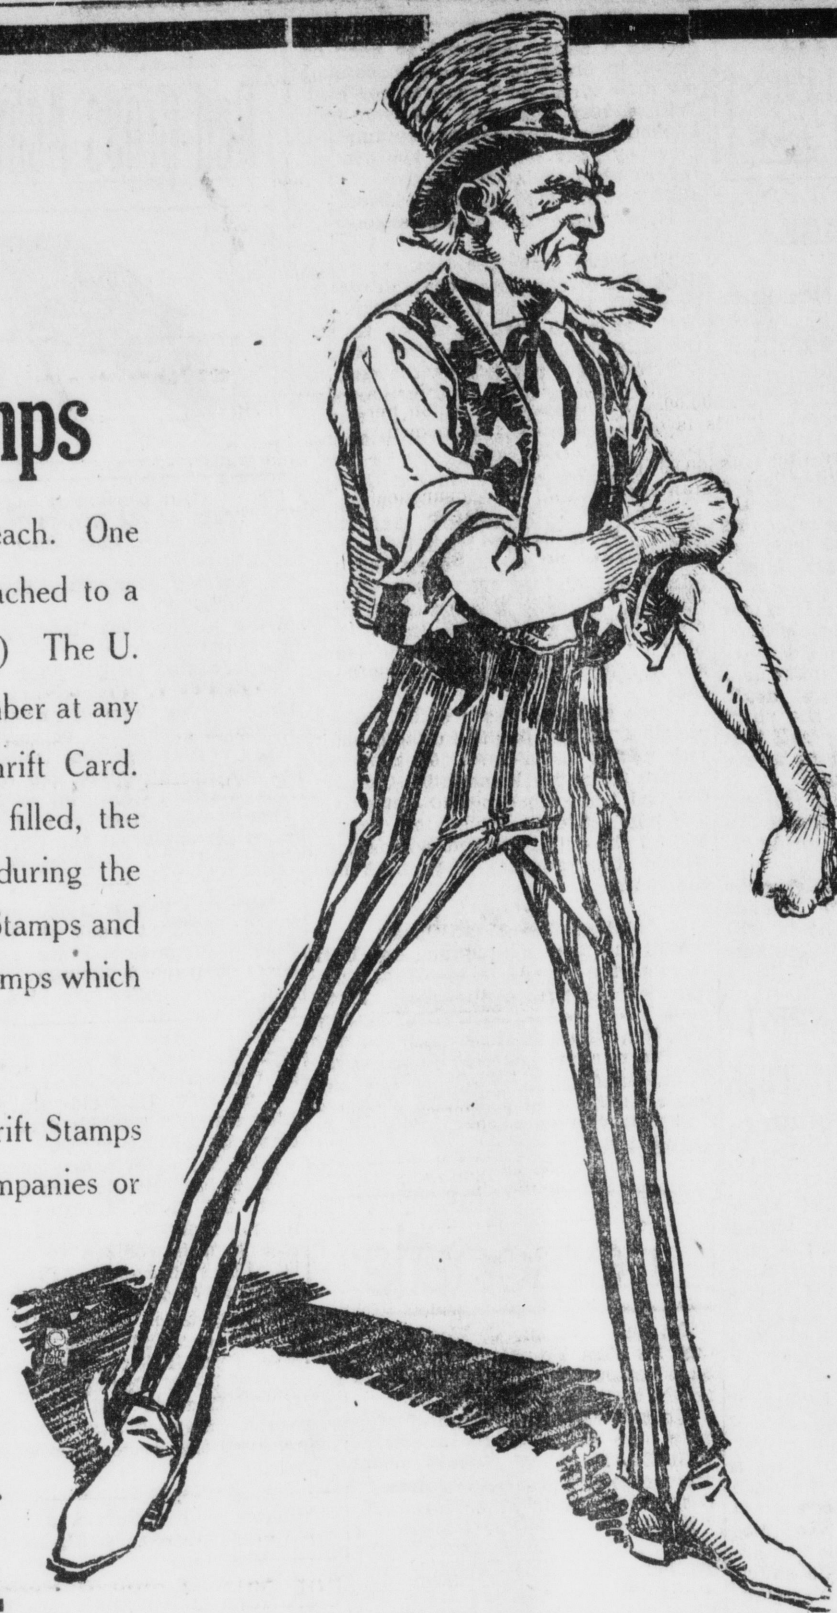

Good positions for all who are qualified for shorthand, bookkeeping or civil service employment. Our Mid-Winter term opens Dec. 31st. Enroll today. Bring this ad with you and save $2.00 to $5.00.

MASONIC NOTICE

U. S. Thrift Stamps

U. S. Thrift Stamps may be had at 25c each. One or more of these may be purchased and attached to a blank Thrift Card (given without extra cost.) The U. S. Thrift Stamps may be purchased in any number at any time, and attached as purchased to the Thrift Card. When sixteen spaces on the Thrift Card are filled, the Card with 12c in cash may be exchanged during the month of January for one of the War Savings Stamps and you may then begin saving the War Savings Stamps which earn 4% interest compounded quarterly.

U. S. War Savings Stamps and U. S. Thrift Stamps may be had at post offices, banks, trust companies or other authorized selling agencies.

U.S. War Savings Stamps

U. S. War Savings Stamps may be had in January at $4.12 each. One or more of these may be purchased and attached to a blank War Savings Certificate (given without extra cost), thus forming a government obligation to pay the holder $5.00 on January 1, 1923, for each stamp attached to the certificate, or a total of $100.00 if the twenty spaces on the certificate are filled. The stamps may be attached from time to time at the owner's convenience, and are redeemable in any number at any time, provided the holder gives ten days' notice.

The sooner you buy War Savings Stamps, the more you save, because they cost one cent more each month after the 31st of January, 1918, as follows:

January	$4.12	July	$4.18
February	4.13	August	4.19
March	4.14	September	4.20
April	4.15	October	4.21
May	4.16	November	4.22
June	4.17	December	4.23

A Fighting Sermon by Uncle Sam

WAR SAVINGS STAMPS AND THE GOLDEN RULE

"I WANT this advertisement to be read by every 100% American—every man, woman and child that lives under the protection of the Stars and Stripes.

I want this advertisement to be a FIGHTING SERMON that will reach the heart of every citizen of the United States of America."

This ad is Short—its language is simple, its theme is the Golden Rule, an appeal that for ages has guided all mankind.

America is at war! The nation's bravest boys, your sons and brothers, are fighting to protect your homes. From the fields of France where America's sons are fighting against German autocracy, comes the call of the Golden Rule—"Do unto others as you would they should do unto you."

If you were an American soldier facing the enemy guns in faraway France, you would want every possible means of protection placed about you while fighting the battles of your country. Your Government only asks that you do for its soldiers what you would have the soldiers do for you.

America's fighters need guns and ammunition, food and supplies. These can be provided through only one source—by the men, women and children for whom these boys are fighting.

Your Uncle Sam does not ask you to give up a single penny—he merely asks that you lend a share of your spare savings, at liberal interest, in order that no American soldier shall face the enemy unprepared.

This, then, is the Golden Rule of the War Savings Stamps—a fighting message which every worth-while American will surely heed. Do not delay longer. Go tomorrow to the postoffice or to the nearest bank, newspaper office, or other authorized agency and invest your surplus savings with the Government. It is a noble duty—the Golden Rule of buying War Savings Stamps.

STANDARD OIL CO. TO PROSPECT NEWPORT OIL FIELDS

Reported That Lease on Banning Lands on Heights Has Been Secured

Newport News:—Agents of the Standard Oil Company, according to reports that have been filtering into the News office for the past week, have apparently secured leases on approximately 2,000 acres of prospective oil land on Newport Heights and will commence active work within sixty days. The Standard Oil Company has the Banning tract, which, with the Irvine tract, totals about 2,000 acres, and when they start after oil, the past history of the famous oil company is that they usually get what they go for.

There is another persistent report that a company, whose name is kept in the dark, but purported to be one of the big companies in the game, has also taken some options near the old Newport well and will begin drilling in a short time. Perhaps, after all, the dreams of an oil field on the heights will come true, and hopes for cheap fuel for manufacturing industries will be realized. Anyway, optimism doesn't cost a cent, and the man who looks on the favorable side of a question is the man who makes it possible for the wheels of progress to turn.

Jetty Bonds Sold

The balance of the jetty bonds, amounting to $23,437.50, were sold this week to the State of California, the price being par and accrued interest. The new H. Wallace made a special trip to Sacramento, and, in spite of the bad market being literally shot to pieces and the state officials turning down about everything that came along, he managed to get the deal through and the bonds are sold. Some may wonder why the bonds were not sold at the time the $100,000 were purchased, and the reason was because the trustees wished to save the taxpayers as much interest as possible, and as all the money was not needed at that time, the $23,437.50 was reserved for later sale. Five percent has been saved on the amount, aggregating nearly $800.00.

Much Credit is Due to Mr. Wallace in disposing of the balance of the bonds, as the city would have been in pretty predicament if they remained unsold. Work on the jetty would have stopped just at the critical point, had being incomplete, would soon fall prey to the lambasting of the mighty reapers. Thanks to Lew Wallace, it is danger point is now safely passed.

Repairing Wharf

The Southern Pacific has a crew of about fifteen men working on the repairing of the wharf this week. Then came down from Los Angeles and gave a special train, where they get their meals and bunk.

ASKING RE-HEARING OF CASE INVOLVING CONTROL OF WATER

SPORTS

By H. C. Hamilton

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—The step taken by the American association to eliminate use of the spitball is destined to blaze a path of reform in baseball.

The aims of Gov. John K. Tener, president of the National league, American league, and other leaders in the game may yet be arrived at in governing pitchers.

Gov. Tener was one of the first to take a stand against the use of the spitball. A pitcher himself, he held that it not only was an unnecessary subterfuge, but was insidious and disgusting to many spectators. Ban Johnson has relieved himself of practically the same sentiments. There are in fact only a few magnates who really believe the delivery should be allowed.

American association pitchers will be watched with interest during the coming season. American association batting records also will come in for close scrutiny, for it is the contention of foes of the spitball that the delivery interferes with free batting, something a fan wants to see when he pays for entrance to a ball game.

Prices paid for ball players in recent days put to shame previous attempts to set records in high sums. It used to be that $5,000 was a tremendous price to pay for a ball player. There was a time not so long ago when Dan Tipple and other comers were referred to as beatitudes, with the amount of their purchase hung on to the front end.

And now. Oh, boy! Grover Cleveland Alexander was just sold for the price of a day's batting in Europe. Wally Schang and some of his co-laborers in the baseball field just changed hands for a sum that Jess Willard would not sneeze at.

Harry Frazee has done the very thing the Red Sox needed. He's put real pep into his catching department.

The addition of Schang, without any other trills, would have won the pennant a year ago for the Red Sox had. He went through a strenuous season, and Sam Agnew is only human. He had to falter a little bit.

Notice of sale of stock and equipment to satisfy lien for feeding and pasturage and storage.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned will sell at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, lawful money of the United States, on Wednesday, the 23d day of January, 1918, between the hours of 9 and 10 o'clock a. m. at my ranch house, the third place West of Hansen Station, Orange County, California, on the left hand side of the road, said Hansen Station being on the line of the Pacific Railroad between Santa Ana and Los Angeles, California, the hereinbefore described stock and property for pasture, feeding and keeping, which is now unpaid and more than 20 days overdue, and for all costs of said sale, said notice being intended to be sold under said agister's lien is described as follows, to-wit:

Two grey geldings about 10 years old, belonging to O. W. Spaulding, now of Inglewood, California; and

One set double work harness, property of said O. W. Spaulding.

Each of said head stock and said property will be sold separately at said time and place.

Dated this 16th day of January, 1918.

USE TEACHERS
MAKING DRAFT
REPORT CARDS

Suggestion, However, May Not Be Carried Out By Board Here

The government has called upon each exemption board to make out a card for a card index that is to be compiled for every registrant in every district, and the suggestion is made by Adjutant General Borree that the exemption board commander the school teachers to do the work.

Each of these cards requires forty-seven entries. They are designed particularly to aid the government in drafting labor. From these cards men will be classified into departments to which they are especially fitted, and the government may order certain men sent to certain work. For instance, should they need 1,000 metal workers in a munitions factory, they could select that 1,000 in a few minutes.

C. J. Overstiner, chief clerk of the local board, said this morning that he doubted if it would be necessary to call for volunteer help in order to get the reports made out. A few weeks ago a card report was called for, and of the germs of many diseases such as Grip, Malaria, means for all of us—light or die. These germs are everywhere in the air we breathe. The odds are in favor of the blood impure.

What is needed most is an increase in the germ-killing strength. To do this successfully you need to purify your blood, rouse the liver to vigorous action, so it will throw off these germs, and purify the blood so that there will be no "weak spots" or soil for germ-growth.

We claim for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery that it does all this in a way peculiar to itself. It cures troubles caused by torpid liver or impure blood. All druggists, liquid or tablets.

Send Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., 10 cents for trial package.

SACRAMENTO, CAL.—"I have used Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for eczema, and found it very good."—MRS. ANNIE ALBRIGHT, 3524 6th Ave.

LOS ANGELES, CAL.—"I will gladly tell of the relief and cure Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery gave me. I was sick with troubles of stomach, liver, etc., and La Grippe with all its attending ailments. When all else failed Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery did the good work. I also took 'Pleasant Pellets' for biliousness, with grand success. I write with gratitude to tell others of the relief that is in store for them. Do not delay but hasten to get the above remedies if suffering from any of these troubles."—SAMUEL

—STRENGTH—

And How To Gain It

Instead of Exercises, Patent Foods and Medicines, Take Phosphate With Your Meals

The demand today is for men and women who are strong in every sense of the word—possessing the physical strength necessary to endure hardships and fatigue; the mental strength to grapple with difficult problems; the nervous force which endows the body with vigor and vitality; the will power to triumph over adversity and turn defeat into victory. But such glorious strength is impossible so long as your nerves are weak and exhausted, and therefore if you would be really strong you must first care for your nerves. Weak, exhausted nerves need food, and for this purpose physicians strongly recommend the use of the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which Rowley Drug Co. and all good druggists stock in compressed tablets, so that if you feel your strength is falling from any cause, you should get a supply of these bitro-phosphate tablets and take one with every meal. Practically all of the minor ailments afflicting mankind, as well as many of the more serious maladies, can be traced to nervous exhaustion and lowered vitality, and probably this explains why such a remarkable improvement in the general health is invariably noticeable when bitro-phosphate is taken as directed, and the nerves are thereby revitalized and made strong.

THREE BECOME CITIZENS AND
SIX WITH THEM

The Longer Harper Waits the Deeper Into the Slough
He Sinks

This morning Judge West granted citizenship to a Russian, an Italian and a Belgian, and with these three men six others by reason of relationship also became citizens.

Louis Berman of Seal Beach, aged 35, born in Russia; John Boer of Santa Ana R. D. 6, aged 39, born in Italy, and Joe Albert Callens of Irvine, aged 29, native of Belgium, were admitted to citizenship. Berman has a wife and one child, and Boer has a wife and three children, and the citizenship of wife and children goes with the husband. Callens is unmarried.

Callens has a brother, Gus, in the Belgian army. Recently, he and his brother, Adolph, who farms at Irvine, received word that their mother was murdered by Germans early in the war. Adolph became a citizen several weeks ago.

The petition of Jorgen N. Johnson for citizenship, which has been hanging fire for a year, was dismissed. Antonio Sweeney telephoned that he was unable to be present this morning, and his petition was continued. The petition of Roger H. Varielle was continued pending a report showing the naturalization of one of his witnesses.

Harper Up Again

Joy P. Harper, formerly of Anaheim, charged with swindling Rev. J. A. Stevenson in the sale of an automobile, may be allowed to join the army. Judge West has instructed Deputy District Attorney Menton to lay Harper's whole record before a recruiting officer and see if the army will accept him. Harper has been slow about telling about his past life, but gradually the officers are getting his record pieced together. This morning it developed that he was under probation on a felony charge when he got into trouble here. Probation was from New Mexico. Harper's case was continued to February 1.

Accuser Grilled

Bob Scott failed to make good his accusation against his ex-wife, Mrs. Cora Carpenter. Last week Mrs. Carpenter had him arrested on a charge of non-support of one of their children. Scott forthwith had the woman arrested on a charge of insanity. This morning Judge West held the hearing upon the insanity charge, the physicians and court deciding that Mrs. Carpenter was sane. Scott was asked if he had not had the woman arrested in retaliation for her prosecution of him. He said he had had her arrested for the benefit of the children, whom he said she had threatened. Mrs. Carpenter lives on Highland street.

Suit Over Trade

Suit has been brought by E. S. Houghtaling against Mrs. Frances A. Severance seeking judgment to compel her to carry out an agreement to trade property at 313 West Third street, Santa Ana, for property in Riverside county owned by Houghtaling. F. C. Drumm of Orange is attorney for the plaintiff.

Asks Donation

The Board of Supervisors has received a letter from the California Traffic Officers' Association, organized with a view to maintaining traffic rules in this state and to seek needed legislation, asking that this county subscribe $25 toward a fund to be used by the association.

Notice of Sale

There is recorded a notice of sale of a grocery store at Delhi from S. P. Chase to Irving J. Lippner.

For Citizenship

William F. Schimming has petitioned for final letters of citizenship. He lives on an Anaheim rural route. He was born in Pembroke, Can., in 1876, and came to this country in 1906. Paul Frahm and Gus DeManske are his witnesses.

PLANS FOR RESIDENCE ON EAST WASHINGTON

A. J. Alberts has plans out and will start work in a few days on a new seven-room house to be built on East Washington avenue, near Grand avenue. Carl A. Stine, architect, of Los Angeles, drew the plans and will superintend the construction. Stine formerly resided in Santa Ana and is a personal friend of Alberts. The residence will cost about $2100.

HOSSLER PROMOTED CORPORAL, CO. A, 21ST

Harry Hossler, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hossler of this city, and a member of Company A, Twenty-first infantry, of the regular army, stationed at San Diego, has been promoted to corporal, with a position in the clerk's office.

Hossler has been with the regulars about two years. He was here last week upon a visit to his parents.

WATER SOAKED
PEPPERS SOLD.
CASE IN COURT

Japanese Who Hit Wavered
Pace on East First Is Ordered to Jail

When water can be sold for six or seven cents a pound, it is worth while owning an irrigation system. I Hara is charged with getting six and seven cents a pound for a limited amount of water, and that is why he is charged with selling water soaked chili peppers.

County Sealer George McPhee swore to the complaint charging I. Hara with a misrepresentation of weights.

Floyd B. Kealisher, who operates a big chili pepper grinding plant at West Anaheim, will be the complaining witness, should Hara plead not guilty. Kealisher grows and also buys a large quantity of dried peppers. I. Hara, who lives south of Garden Grove, on Saturday delivered 1800 pounds of chili peppers, supposed to be dry. Kealisher says they were wet, exceptionally wet. He called McPhee, and McPhee also says the peppers were wet, wetter than Anaheim, even though a dry north wind was blowing. McPhee brought in a sack of the stuff for proof, and swore to the complaint.

Just as an experiment that he might judge of how much water a bunch of dried chili peppers really would drink if one should attempt to satisfy their thirst and add to their weight, McPhee took a barley sack full of dried peppers and slowly poured in five gallons of water, and none of the water went through.

Sentenced to Jail

This afternoon M. Yamashiro of Tustin, celery grower, was sentenced to ten days in jail and to pay a fine of $10.

The Jap was arrested several weeks ago on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated. He was going out East First street in a light truck and witnesses said he was taking up the whole road. When Motorcycle Officer Carr gave chase, he was caught in one of the warring curves of the on-tearing truck, was forced off the highway and had to hurdle a ditch on his motorcycle. Yamashiro and his attorney, M. A. Cain, evidently knew that a jail sentence was coming, for last month they asked for time to adjust the Jap's affairs so that he could be away from his farm for awhile.

Hunters Charged

I. Cariker and P. C. Titus, both of Brea, have been charged with trespassing on the Santa Ana Gun Club property south of Santa Ana. The keeper says that on Thursday afternoon he found the men in blinds of the club. J. E. Durston swore to the complaint. The hunters were fined $5 each.

10 CENT 'CASCARETS'

BEST LAXATIVE FOR LIVER AND BOWELS

No odds how bad your liver, stomach or bowels; how much your head aches, how miserable and uncomfortable you are from a cold, constipation, indigestion, biliousness and sluggish bowels—you always get relief with Cascarets.

Don't let your stomach, liver and bowels make you miserable. Take Cascarets tonight; put an end to the headache, biliousness, dizziness, nervousness, sick, sour, gassy stomach, bad cold, offensive breath and all other distress; cleanse your inside organs of all the bile, gases and constipated matter which is producing the misery.

A 10-cent box means health, happiness and a clear head for months. All druggists sell Cascarets. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a gentle cleansing, too.—Adv.

ALL PROPERTY OWNERS SHOULD COME UP AND GET ACQUAINTED

The Orange County Building Industries Association was formed for the benefit of property owners. We are in business to see that you receive the best possible workmanship at the right price whenever you need a contractor, painter, bricklayer, plasterer, cement layer, plumber or electrician.

We have formed this association to protect you from the slipshod, irresponsible contractor. From the man who gives you cheap workmanship, cheap materials, unreliable service.

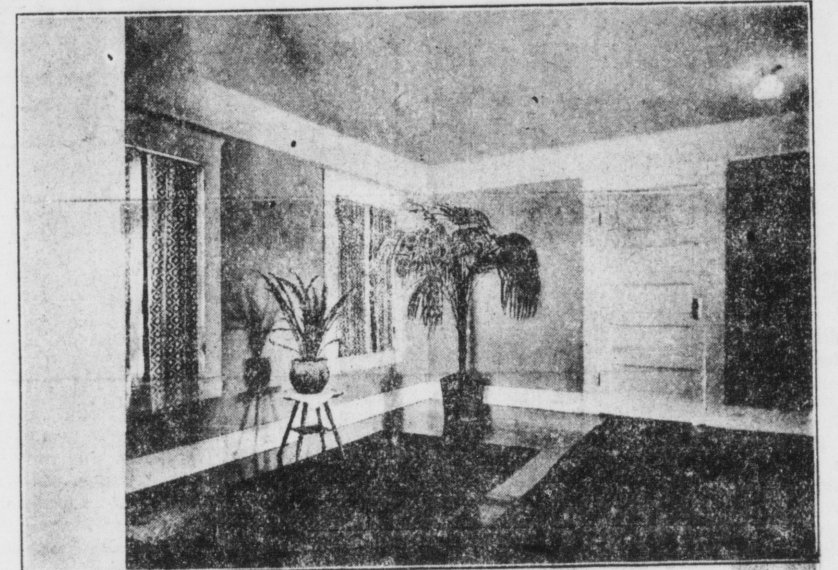

This entire organization, consisting of nearly 40 of the leading contractors and firms, stands back of and guarantees the work done by any single member of the association.

It will mean a lot to you to come up and get acquainted—especially if you are in need of a contractor, painter, bricklayer, plasterer, cement layer, electrician, plumber.

Expert to Lecture Here Friday Night Under Auspices of M. and M.

A practical demonstration on salesmanship will be given at the city council chambers Friday night of this week under the auspices of the Merchants and Manufacturers association. Geo. M. Wessells of Los Angeles will be the lecturer. He has been giving the lecture and demonstration before business men for many years and is an expert in giving advice to clerks and merchants in the proper handling of prospective purchasers. The directors of the M. and M. met this afternoon and arranged for the meeting.

The lecturer will present various articles of merchandise in demonstrating methods that should be used in their sale.

The lecture will be of particular interest to clerks and members of the association are expected to impress upon their employees the benefits they will derive by attending.
